John Rypien Sentenced

Before Inspector Belcher and A. M. Morrison, J. P., at Coleman, on the 17th, John Rypien was found guilty and sentenced to six months' imprisonment with hard labor and a fine of $25 for wounding with bullet little Simone VanBuren on the night of June 26th. Twelve witnesses were called by the crown and as many more had been subpoenaed, but were not placed on the stand by the prosecution. The evidence proved conclusively that the accused on the night in question borrowed a 30-30 calibre rifle and fired two shots into the room occupied by the victim and her sisters, in which they were sleeping, one of the bullets lodging in the body of the child.

L. H. Putnam, of Blairmore, and O. L. Sheppard, of Lethbridge, appeared for the accused, and elected to have the case tried summarily. The prisoner was taken to Lethbridge penitentiary Thursday morning by Constable Grant, of the R.N.W.M.P.

The child is still in the hospital at Coleman, but in the opinion of the medical practitioner attending her, is out of danger. The bullet has not yet been removed from the wound.

Frank Will be Moved

The town of Frank, Alberta, which was almost wiped out a few years ago by a land slide, and which is seriously threatened with destruction from the same source, has made final arrangements to change its location. In the advertising columns of the Free Press J. H. Farmer, secretary for the village council, is calling for tenders for the removal of all buildings from the town of Frank, Alberta, all tenders to be in by the end of July. Despite the great danger which has threatened it in recent years the town of Frank has prospered to such an extent that there are a great many buildings to be moved.—Winnipeg Free Press.

Miss Rita Latta returned home last week from La Chute, Quebec, where she has been attending school for the past two years.

"Rastus" Isaac, Cowley's jockey of much fame, left on Friday for Brandon, where he will ride some fast horses at the exhibition there.

The new school is almost completed and will be ready for use when the school opens for the fall term on August 12th, with G. D. Martin as principal.

W. Howie is learning to drive an auto. One evening last week while endeavoring to run down a gopher he failed to see a telephone pole in his track. He came to a sudden stop but did not hurt the car. Practice makes perfect.

The Tennis Club ball will be held in the opera house here on Friday, July 26th, and will be a grand affair. The Blairmore orchestra has been engaged. Don't fail to get to this as it is going to be the best dance of the year.

FRANK CHILD IS FATALLY SCALDED

Beautiful Tribute Delivered At Graveside
By Rev. Fr. Sammut.

A frightful accident occurred at the Union Hotel, Frank, on Friday last, which resulted in the death of Jack, the little 2½-year-old child, of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McDonald. The child was playing in the kitchen stove and in some inconsiderate manner tumbled into a pot of boiling soup by the cook, fearfully scalding the little frame. Medical aid was called and everything done to alleviate the child's sufferings, but little hope was entertained for his recovery. Sunday morning the spirit of life passed away. The funeral took place at Blairmore cemetery on Monday morning, a large number of Mr. and Mrs. McDonald's friends attending. Rev. Father Sammut officiated.

Much sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. McDonald who have been so suddenly called to grief. Following is the tribute delivered by Rev. Fr. Sammut at the graveside: Let us approach in silence near the grave which is about to enclose forever the tiny remains of little Jack McDonald. We are here assembled by dear friends, not from worldly interest but from Christian charity, to bid eternal rest to a body swallowed before time by the jaws of death. The Church is here represented to bless the grave of little Jack, and in the present circumstance she puts away the black vestments, the color that symbolizes wrath, and manifests joy instead of mourning. The day of the death of Jack was a day of triumph. He has on the white garment of glory and immortality, and we must chase away all thoughts of mourning as unbecoming to his triumph.

"My little Jack," said this earth of misery and suffering. Sooner or later I hope to share this common fate.—"Died young, to rest eternally." But after the death of the body, man lives still. The belief of a future life is the possession and inheritance of every man being. It is the prime requisite for man's voluntary acceptance of his lot in life. If there is no future life, then life is a curse. What is the verdict of mankind on the value of life? It is that there is more evil than good. What is the evidence of every individual man? It is that life is more unhappy than happy. There is never a better change of luck. Any man that has ever been will tell us when dying: "My life has been one of misery. There is only one aspiration in the human heart, and that is to live eternally and happily. The moment that life begins, we enter into an everlasting state of supreme happiness. In the light of this truth we can understand Catholic endeavor. We are children of God and of eternity, and we are here to prove it. We look upon life as a state of probation. We know it is full of evil; we know it is a place of death; and we are willing to surrender to it very often; willing to vindicate our heavenly character and eternal destiny in the face of every adverse condition, because only to him who conquers the crown will be given—and this promised crown of glory and immortality has been given to you, dear Jack McDonald. You were taken away so that malice cannot deceive you, nor wickedness corrupt your angelic soul. Your abode is with the angels in heaven. You know nothing that is distressing, nothing that is wicked. Your pure soul has been unpolluted. Let us rejoice now at your triumph over this miserable world. What a striking contrast between your present happiness and our sad lot here below. You are yet left a tender mother and a loving father, but that was not a loss for you. God is your inheritance, heaven is now your eternal home. Look down, dear little angel, on your parents and friends who are here, and say: 'I am not overjoyed that God gave me the adoption of you in my baptism, made me heir over a kingdom.' May your prayers, dear little angel, heal the wound of your father and mother's heart who should be more than glad to give another saint to heaven. May your body rest in peace till the day of the last resurrection. Amen.

Thomas Tapella, of Bellevue, acted as referee in an able manner. Jim Burrows announced that he would accept a challenge from anyone for the middle-weight championship of Canada, which title he still claims to hold.

Tapella challenged the winner of Saturday night's bout, Charlie Burrows, to a match to be arranged for some future date.

A number of miners went out on strike at Coleman this week, through some dissatisfaction arising over the scale of wages etc. President Stubbs is on the grounds and it is hoped the trouble will soon be overcome.

Geological Surveyor Visits

W. W. Leach, of the geological survey department of the Dominion of Canada, was in this district on Thursday last on business matters connected with the government. Mr. Leach is in this neighborhood gathering information for the compilation of a new geological map of The Crows' Nest Pass coal field. This map, when completed, will be one of a series to be issued by the government showing the natural resources of the Dominion, both developed and undeveloped. Mr. Leach is also collecting material for the preparation of a guide book for the International Geological Association which meets in Canada next year. This association is composed of mining engineers from all parts of the world and meets in different countries every other year. Next year, 1913, Canada will have the honor of entertaining the members of this association. During their visit, the party, numbering five or six hundred in all, will tour through the Dominion visiting all places of interest and paying particular attention to all mining centres. When they visit the great South Alberta Coal Field the probabilities are that they will be stopping off at Hillcrest to examine the Hillcrest and the Levine mines.

Burrows Gets Decision

The boxing match on Saturday night terminated in an unpleasant manner. A good attendance greeted the affair, representative of pugilistic enthusiasts from all over The Pass. The preliminary between Jim Burrows and Dick Marshall resulted in a five-round draw. The main bout—between Charlie Burrows, the champion welterweight war horse of Southern Alberta and B. C., and Sam Granger, of Bellevue, commenced about 10.15. The first five rounds were exhibitions of good science by both men, while it was plain to be seen that in spite of the fleet-footedness of Granger, Burrows was there with the force and effectiveness. In the fourth round Granger had the misfortune to dislocate a former break in his left hand, which caused him so much pain that he had to quit in the sixth round and allow Burrows the decision.

SUMMER SKIN TROUBLES.

Runburn, blistering, and irritation are the commonest forms of summer skin troubles, and Zambuk ends these very quickly. It works in two ways. As soon as applied, the antiseptic powers get to work and kill all the poison in a wound, a sting or a sore. This generally ends the smarting and the pain. Then Zambuk begins the healing process, and fresh healthy tissue is built up. For sores, blistered feet, sore hands, heat rashes, baby's red spots, sore places due to perspiration, etc., you can't equal Zambuk. It also cures cuts, ulcers, abscesses, oozes, and all inflamed and diseased conditions of skin and subcutaneous tissue. Druggists and stores everywhere sell Zambuk. See box. Use Zambuk Soap also. See, per tablet. All stores, or Zambuk Co., Toronto.

All Made Clear

A woman missionary in China was taking tea with a mandarin's eight wives. The Chinese ladies examined her clothing, her hair, her teeth, and so on, but her feet especially amazed them. "Why," cried one, "you walk barefoot?" "Yes, to be sure," said the missionary. "Can you ride a horse, and swim, too?" "Yes," she answered. "You must be as strong as a man!" "I am." "Don't you wouldn't let a man handle you, even if he was your husband?" "Would you?" "Indeed I wouldn't," the missionary said. "The mandarin's eight wives looked at one another, nodding their heads. Then the oldest said, softly: "Now I understand why the foreign devil never has more than one wife. He is afraid."

The transition from winter's cold to summer's heat frequently puts a strain upon the system that produces internal complications, always painful and often serious. A common form of disorder is dysentery, to which many are prone in the spring and summer. The very best medicine to use in subduing this painful ailment is Dr. J. D. Kallender's Dysentery Cordial. It is a standard remedy, sold everywhere.

A Poet Successful and Lazy
Aspirants to success who are discouraged by the very early rising of Cokes and Kant should think of the successful poet Thomson, and be comforted. For Thomson was one of the laziest men who ever lived, and seldom rose before noon. And yet in "The Seasons" he managed to give us some of the most beautiful descriptions of a sunrise. It is said of him that he would eat the sunny side of the potatoes in his garden with his hands in his pockets, but even such late rising and his Castle of Indolence did not prevent his becoming famous.—London Chronicle.

Disappointed.
A member of the Chicago bar told this story of a lawyer's dinner in India.
A farmer's son in Illinois conceived a desire to shine as legal light. Accordingly he went to Springfield, where he accepted employment at a small sum from a fairly well known lawyer. At the end of three days' study he returned to the farm.
"Well, Bill, how'd ye like the law?" asked the father.
"It ain't what I cracked up to be, responded Bill, gloomily. I'm sorry I learned it.—Chicago Evening Post.

A class was reciting a lesson in ancient history, says a Lachine school teacher and one of the pupils was describing the Olympian games. A great many people went to see them, she said, because it was put in the paper when they were coming. "Did they have papers in those days?" Why, yes, was the reply. "It says so in the book anyway. It says the Herald proclaimed them!"

An Absent Minded Professor
A very absent-minded professor was busily engaged in solving a scientific problem when the nurse opened the library door and announced a great family event.
"The little stranger has arrived, professor."
"Ah," said the professor.
"It is a little boy," said the nurse.
"Little boy, little boy, mused the professor. Well, ask him what he wants.—Woman's Home Companion.

A Boon for the Bilious—The liver is a very sensitive organ and easily deranged. When this occurs there is undue secretion of bile and the acid fluid flows into the stomach, he sours it. There is no better medicine in the entire list of pill preparations.

No Music at Windsor Castle

At Windsor Castle, if anywhere in England, one might expect to find the inhabitants punctilious in the observance of all the usual outward demonstrations of loyalty to the crown. First the Colonel in command of the Second Life Guards, the regiment at present stationed at Windsor, has found the few people remote and has taken the only means open to him of punishing them.
One of the three regiments of Household Cavalry is always stationed at Windsor, and for generations it has been the custom of the town people to go to the barracks after church parade and listen to the regimental band. One Sunday recently Colonel Ferguson, the commanding officer, was present in the barracks square when the band played the national anthem at the close of its programme and was so struck with the apparent disrespect of many of the civilian listeners who did not raise their hats or salute in any fashion that on the following day he issued an order prohibiting the band from playing in the square till further orders.—McCall's Magazine.

I'm surprised, Tommy, said the father, reprovingly, that you should strike your little brother. Don't you know that it is nearly as bad to strike anyone smaller than yourself? Yes, answered Tommy. But when you do it on Friday I was too polite to mention it.

INDIGESTION RIGHTLY CURED

By Toning up the Stomach to do its Work Nature Intends it Should

Indigestion should not be neglected for a moment, for by depriving the body of its proper nourishment through the food the trouble grows steadily worse. Neither should stimulating medicines, which ruin the already weak stomach, by making it work beyond its strength, be used, nor pre-digested foods, which do not excite a flow of the digestive fluids, and by dilute cause the stomach to grow weaker. Nowhere is the tonic treatment by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills more clearly useful. The principle of this treatment is to enable the stomach to do its own work by building up the blood and giving tone to the nerves. When these are once restored to their normal health indigestion disappears and the cure is permanent. Here is an experience of a patient. Mr. John Broome, Chicago, Cal., writes: "For years I was an almost constant sufferer from indigestion, and naturally because there was much nutritious food which I could not eat owing to the pain and discomfort which followed, I was becoming much run down. I tried many medicines but none of them helped me until I began the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. After taking a few boxes I was much better and in the course of a couple of months was quite well and could eat any food set before me."

If you are a sufferer from indigestion, or any trouble due to bad blood or weak nerves, you can begin to cure yourself today by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Sold by all medicine dealers or by mail at 50 cents per box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

There is such a thing as overdoing this "bright side" business, recently observed a crusty old bachelor, who was evidenced recently in the household of a friend of mine, whose wife has always prided herself on the circumstance that she looks on the bright side.
The husband, an absent minded sort of a chap, put the lighted end of his cigar in his mouth as he sat reading the paper. Of course, he jumped up and made a dreadful ruckus for a moment. Then, wifely, anxious to live up to her reputation of being nice and cheerful and encouraging, smiled blandly and observed: "At any rate, it was most fortunate that you discovered it at once."

Would Not Save His Heroine
Balthazar's efforts to save the particular "which serves" the cause of cheering us all up" reminds one of an architect who was tempted to give his heroine her happy ending.

"Clarissa Harlowe" ran his course in volumes issued periodically, and at the end of the sixth Clarissa was left dying. This so affected a misguided enthusiast that he at once guided Richardson $5,000 in the next volume he would restore her to health.

Richardson refused. Literature has its heroes.

A Slight Mistake
At a recent football match one of the players caught the ball heavily in the groin, and he had to retire for a time. A man in the crowd, conspicuous by the unusual size of his nose, suddenly exclaimed:
"Bah, some of the players nowadays are made of gingerbread. Why, in my younger days, when I was playing on one occasion the ball hit me on the nose with such force that I felt the ground, but I simply jumped up and smiled."

So did the crowd, I suppose, asked someone behind.

Certainly not, why should they? Well, it looks to me as though they got your nose on the field and brought the football away in mistake, replied another. He suddenly became engrossed in the play.

They had been having a little tiff. Of course, said he, wistfully. I am always in the wrong. Not always, said she, calmly. Last time you admitted that you were in the wrong.

Well, what's that got to do with it? he demanded.

Nothing, except that you were perfectly right when you admitted it, she replied.

Sing Me the Good Old Songs

Oh, sing me the songs that once you sang.
In the days that have gone by.
The sailor songs and the shepherd's songs.
And the songs of sea and sky.

The songs of peace and the songs of war.
Of the buccannier bold and free
Who roamed the main for gain and fame.
Till he hung on the gallows tree.

Of horsemen who rode through blood and fire
Never heeding the hellish blast,
Of cannon's boom and mortar's hiss
Where the "Death King" followed fast.

Oh, sing me the songs of love and mirth.
We heard in our youthful days.
When our hearts were light and our spirits bright
As the bird that sings on the sea.
—Mail and Empire.

Towns Without Taxes

It was recently reported from Germany that there was a little town within the Empire in which there were no taxes. The town possessed benefactions, the revenues from which enabled it to pay its way without the intervention of the state treasury.

France never likes to be outdone by anything German, so a Paris contemporary has set itself the task of finding a parallel. Something more than a parallel has been discovered, for not only are there no taxes but the timber on the communal lands are sufficient to tax each person a franc annually. This happy land is Montmarion, in the Midi. There are seven electors in the hamlet, so to avoid anything like rivalry they sever return themselves to the local council.

Cutting down trees and selling them is sufficient to provide a livelihood for these simple people, whose taxes are so modest that they may be termed by some: uncivilized.—London Globe.

NO OPERATION WAS EVER NEEDED HERE

BECAUSE MRS. GOODINE USED DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

Doctor said she would have to undergo operation, but Dodd's Kidney Pills cured her.
Central Kingsclere, York Co., N.B. (Special).—The doctor said I would have to undergo an operation." So said Mrs. V. Goodine, of this place. But she smiled as she made the remark, for all need of the dreaded operation had vanished much to the surprise of Dodd's Kidney Pills and is a well known cure. Given in brief and in a few words, Mrs. Goodine's experience is as follows:

I was very miserable with Kidney Disease and unable to do any work. The doctor said I would have to undergo an operation. After using three boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills I was all better and able to do my work. This statement is true, as you can easily prove by enquiring among my neighbors.
Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the Kidneys; cured kidney trouble, strain, poisons and other causes of disease out of the blood. Thus Dodd's Kidney Pills are a natural cure for all Kidney diseases and all ills caused by diseased kidneys.

Daddy's Weak Spot
Waiter was 8 years old. He had been very naughty in point of fact he had emptied a bottle of red ink over his mother's white Pomeranian.

Now the price had to be paid for the enjoyment, and father was taking a hand in the game.

Little Lucy, Waiter's sister, was in the room at the time of the conflict. "What a dreadful row," she said, punctuated by Waiter's wailings.

At last Lucy could stand it no longer. "Burns with indignation on his stamp," her tiny foot on the floor.

"Tread on his corn, Wal," she cried. "That'll stop him."

The average income is sorely tried the struggle to make ends meet. To pay the wages of those who help. And the bills for the food we eat.

The cook in the kitchen asks for more. And so does the serving maid. And then, perforce, as a matter of course, The increase must be paid.

We are told the coal is about to rise. The gas bills are twice as large. And for every strike which threatens the land. The consumer must pay the charge.

So, what are the people going to do? "An answer" we are going to give. When the average income is stretched and strained. Beyond what it's able to give?

England's Last Fatal Duel
It would be difficult to find anybody who remembers the last fatal duel in England. The date was May 20, 1845, and the place a spot on the shore near Gosport. Lieutenant Hawke, of the Royal Marine, believing Lieutenant Scotford had paid too much attention to his wife at a South Sea function, called him a villain and a backslider, threatening to horsewhip him and attempted to kick him.

Scotford, who was a very brave fellow, by articles of war in 1844, after the horror caused by the death of Colonel Fawcett at the hands of his brother-in-law, Lieutenant Munro, in 1843, the provocation in the Hawke-Scotford case was that a meeting resulted. Scotford fired and missed. The hammer of Hawke's pistol being set on the safety notch, it would not go off.

At the second discharge Scotford fell. Hawke ran to France.

Poetic Justice in France
The following is a case of poetic justice, as meted out in France.

A well-known Parisian architect was sitting in his office when he heard a knock at the door. As he wished to be alone, he took no notice of the knock but went on with his work. A few moments later he heard a key moving in the lock. Not doubting that his visitor was a burglar, the architect armed himself with a revolver and quietly hid behind some curtains.

Presently the thief entered and proceeded to rifle the drawers and quietly hid behind some curtains. Presently the thief entered and proceeded to rifle the drawers and quietly hid behind some curtains.

"Open the window," ordered the architect, "and shoot 'police!'"

The burglar had no alternative but to obey and so summoned the officer by whom he was to be arrested.

Lynd's reports for the 3 months ending Dec. 1 last, show the loss or condemnation of 235 ships of one hundred tons or over. Of these 24 were burned at sea, seven burned, 21 were lost by collision, 30 foundered and 123 wrecked.

Other side of the Window
"Why, bridge, you surely don't consider these windows washed clean the lady of the house reproachfully.

Surely, I washed 'em nicely on the inside," mum so ye can look out," replied Bridget, "but I intentionally left them a little dirty on the outside so that ignorant Jones children might do couldn't look in."

Constipation
Is an enemy within the camp. It weakens the strongest constitution and ruins the most vigorous health. It leads to indigestion, biliousness, headache, and is one of the most frequent causes of appendicitis. It neglects to slow itself. Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills positively cure Constipation. They are entirely vegetable in composition and do not sicken, weaken or gripe. Preserve your health by taking

The Japanese Beggar
Directly a policeman of one station describes a beggar he kicks him away, no matter whether, and another policeman at another station catches him and throws him out of his area, and so on, with the consequence that the beggars after wandering from one ward to another and back again ultimately settle down in the regions of the least resistance, namely, the suburbs. The latest happenings prove that the suburbs are fast becoming the centre of mendacity and criminality. The Malinchikoff for begs the authorities "to adopt a positive instead of patchwork police" advocating an exhaustive study of the problem.

Another plan is that the teachers of primary schools be called upon to impress upon the emotional youngsters the utter unavailability of beggars, so that the younger generation may consider beggars as those deservingly to be kicked out for their laziness or to be maintained by public charity, rather than as poor fellows meriting individual assistance.—From the Tokio Mail.

Church—I go it is said that in the Blue Nile region in Egypt a native laborer can live very comfortably on six cents a day. He gets his food from his own land, and he is not a beggar, but I suppose the trouble is in finding out just where the six cents eight cents the day is coming from.—Yonkers Statesman.

My daughter says I have a good ear for music. What does she mean by that? I don't know exactly. I'll afraid she refers to the fact that I can listen to some of the things she plays without getting the earache.—Washington Star.

Willis—What position do you occupy in your household? Gillis—I am treasurer to my wife's social secretary.—Judge.

Husband—But you must admit that men have better judgment than women. Wife—Oh, yes, you married me, didn't you?—Life.

Lille Versus Hillcrest

Practically the whole population of Hillcrest interested in football visited Frank on Saturday last on the occasion of the replay match between Lille and Burnis. There was considerable jostling done, principally with the Lille men, remarks to the effect that Lille really ought to play down being frequent among that team's numerous supporters. The ground was in an abominable shape and a good game with any team was impossible, but after the first few minutes the boys got going and the ground seemed to make little difference to their play. At first Burnis were pressing the Lille goal hard, and the defense had most of the game.

The left back and the goal keeper put up exceptionally good play all through the game and it is due to them entirely that Lille were not defeated. About the middle of the first half the Lille forwards got away with the ball, and making a rapid run upon the Burnis goal scored, to the delight of their supporters. The score at half time remained 1-0 in favor of Lille. During the second half, Lille paying down hill, this team again scored, and considered they had the game cinched. Burnis, however, did not think so and after repeated efforts managed to score. Burnis scored again about ten minutes later by a peculiar shot of Sloan's, the ball ricocheting ten yards out from the goal bouncing over the goal keeper's head and just squeezing under the bar. No more scoring was done although just before time was called Burnis were pressing very hard on the Lille goal. One of the distasteful features of the game was some of the dirty work done by one of the Burnis team. This party has been slated before for this sort of work, and Burnis are foolish in allowing him to remain on the team, good player though he may be. For no matter into what League Burnis may enter it is a cinch that this one man will give the team a bad name if he persists in overshadowing his otherwise first class playing by these dirty little tricks. The final score of 2-2 was very satisfactory to all, the Hillcrest people only being sorry that Lille had allowed Burnis to even up. But never mind, Lille you'll be up at Hillcrest next Wednesday.

Happenings in and Around Bellevue

Mr. Comfort, of North Fork, was in town last Thursday.

Mr. Goodwin, (Sen.) is occupying the old Mitchell ranch.

Rev. Stacey McCall was a visitor in town on Monday.

Miss Rogers is visiting at Moose Jaw and other eastern points.

Wm. Faymon, of Coleman, was a visitor in the camp on Saturday.

Mrs. Callan has returned from an extended trip along the West coast.

Fred Padgett was a visitor in the camp on Monday and Tuesday.

Rev. W. T. Young will occupy the pulpit in the Methodist church next Sunday evening.

Florence and Margaret Hallworth left the camp on Saturday to join their parents at Royal View Collieries. They were accompanied by their grandmother, Mrs. Chappell.

Buy it now. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is almost certain to be needed before the summer is over. Buy it now and be prepared for such an emergency. For sale by all dealers.

The Bellevue boys are preparing for a big ball to be given on the night of Monday, July 29th. Pincher Creek orchestra will be in attendance and nothing will be left undone that might tend to make the evening a most enjoyable one. Refreshments will be served.

If you are a housewife you cannot reasonably hope to be healthy or beautiful by washing dishes, sweeping and doing housework all day and crawling into bed tired at night. You must get out into the open air and sunlight. If you do this every day and keep your stomach and bowels in good order by taking Chamberlain's Tablets when needed you should become both healthy and beautiful. For sale by all dealers.

A big 20-round boxing contest will be staged at the Socialist Hall on Saturday night between Freddie Beattie, title holder of the province of Quebec, and Louis Britano, of San Francisco. Both are eleven "pugs" and no doubt the 20-round bout will be interesting. Good preliminaries will also be staged. Marquis of Queensbury rules will govern with clean breaks. Prices are moderate: $2.00 ringside, $1.50 reserved and $1.00 general.

We notice in last week's issue of this paper an item from Burnis stating that Eddy's "Baldy" beat Chappell's "Queen of the Woods" in the open pony race at Beaver Creek on July 12th. We do not know whether this is a discovery of the famous literary and scientific society, "The Guzzuks," or from what source the information came, but we do know that "Baldy" did not win the open pony race at Beaver Creek on July 12th, and we also know that neither on that or on any other occasion has this horse beat the Bellevue mare.

The Grand Garden Party held at Bellevue on Monday was a big success. The band music never sounded better, the ice cream was perfection and although the evening tried to be cloudy, the sun could not resist from shining and when its rays did not warm the earth, it shone in the spirits of the merry makers. Games were enjoyed by old and young alike and through the kindness of Mrs. J. R. Studd, of Maple Leaf, a good stock of prizes were on hand for the little ones. A goodly sum was realized and everybody seemed well pleased.

During the summer months mothers of young children should watch for any unusual looseness of the bowels. When given prompt attention at this time serious trouble may be avoided. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy can always be depended upon. For sale by all dealers.

Happenings in and Around Hillcrest

Some of the correspondents of the Lethbridge Herald are very chummy as to the standing of the various teams in the Alberta Pass Football League. How would it do to really figure it out for once before sending in your reports.

Grace Bonner is billed to appear at the Hillcrest Opera House on the 24th in "Esméralda." It is seldom that we get anything but the everlasting moving picture shows in Hillcrest and there is little doubt that the show this week will be a great success.

The Orangemen of Hillcrest who went down to the celebration at Pincher Creek on the 12th (and there were many of them) received a rude shock immediately upon their return to Hillcrest. For in place of the White Ensign which they had left floating over their lodge was a green flag, the other flag having been placed on the top of a nearby tree. Their indignation was unbounded and they are making a hard attempt to find out who the parties are that were responsible for this foolish exhibition of party feeling. If they are discovered the chances are that they will be sent over the road, as the lodge is determined to make an example of them.

The indignation of both Lille and Hillcrest footballers was aroused at Lille when it was learned that Burnis had attempted to get Lille through the game played at Burnis on the 10th. The officials of both clubs were sore and no doubt this accounts for the very hard game put up by Lille last Saturday. Some time ago Hillcrest received a calling down from Burnis in the Lethbridge Herald about not being sporty in their reports of the games played at Hillcrest, but what have we today's report? Be a little more sporty, is right after all but to whom should this venerable quotation be applied.

Every rig in town was pressed into service last Wednesday when the Hillcrest football team visited Lille. The game was a clean hard fought one throughout and the Lille men are to be complimented on their sportsmanlike qualities taking a licking without quailing. The final score was 3-1 in favor of the visitors. During the first half both teams played evenly. The Lille forwards doing good work but falling down in the passing, while Hillcrest seemed content to take things a little easy after their hard match last Monday. At half time there were no score for either side, and supporters of Hillcrest were beginning to look serious. They looked more serious still when about half-way through the second half Lille broke through their defence and scored. It was not until twelve minutes of time that Hillcrest evened up the score, and within the last eight minutes placed two more to their credit.

All Hillcrest was saddened by the news of the sudden death of Mrs. Johnson here on Saturday last. The deceased had been living with her family in Hillcrest for a number of years and everyone in town was well acquainted with her. Death was due to heart failure. Upon rising on Saturday morning she had an attack of faintness and shortly afterwards was found lying on the floor of her room. Dr. Ross was immediately summoned but was unable to do anything. The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon at the Hillcrest cemetery at 3 o'clock the Rev. Jas. Lang officiating. The funeral arrangements were handled by the local Orange Lodge, who turned out in force and we liked immediately in front of the hearse. The deceased's popularity was very evident from the large number of mourners who followed the body to its last resting place and the sympathies of all are extended to the family in their bereavement.

Happenings in and Around Frank

The auction sale at Watson's drug store terminated on Saturday morning last.

Services at the Catholic church in Frank on Sunday at 11:15 a.m. and in Blaimore, at 10 a.m.

A large number of people availed of the fine weather this Thursday morning and took in the excursion to Crow's Nest.

Sam Willinky who was convicted several months ago for the murder of George Lakotecz at Frank, is to be hung this Friday morning at Macleod, on the gallows erected for the execution of Fritz Eberle.

General sympathy is expressed with Mr. and Mrs. McDonald of the Union Hotel, in the loss of their little child Jack. Less than a year ago they lost their youngest child, and the present bereavement is thus made doubly severe.

The Travellers' Association will hold a big convention at the Rocky Mountain Sanatorium on August 2nd, 3rd and 4th. On Friday will be given a ball, which promises to be a most unique affair. Saturday will be formal opening of the new tennis courts, and Sunday a big banquet will be served. The Macleod orchestra will be in attendance during the whole three days' affair.

Rev. E. Stacey McCall, former pastor of Knox Methodist church at Frank, but now connected with Alberta University, Edmonton, was a visitor to The Pass this week. On Sunday night he officiated at Knox church and delivered a most wonderful address on "Canada's Opportunity." Mr. McCall's many friends are pleased to welcome him back to the scene of past labors, and bespeak for him further successes as student and preacher.

Notes From Burnis

Magistrate F. Dancy was a visitor to town this week.

Mrs. Alan Ford left town this week to join her husband at Coleman, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Cowan of Macleod are visiting friends in town this week.

Jack Jones, vice-president of the District 18, C.M.W. of Pass, was a week end visitor to Burnis.

A well known Crockett in the person of Paddy King blew into camp this week and has started in the mine here.

We would like to know who swiped "Lucks" roster? That'll get purred out 'rils and moon if he comes back again.

A large number of Burnis people journeyed to Frank on Saturday to witness the replay league fixture between Burnis and Lille, which resulted in a draw of two goals each.

The Burnis football club held a very successful smoking concert on Saturday evening. The music was provided by different members of the club, and a good programme of songs was ably rendered, and altogether a very enjoyable evening was spent in harmony.

Quite a lot of excitement prevailed in camp on Sunday; the occasion being the race for the Guzzuk stakes over an eight mile course. There were only two entries for this race, Harold Smith's "Jimmy" and Uncle Billie's "Blue." Quite a large amount of money changed hands on this race. Both horses got a running start off and their return was eagerly awaited. Forty minutes from the start Harold Smith's "Jimmy" romped home by a good margin.

The Order of Guzzuk met again this week, the meeting last week having to be postponed, owing to the president getting lost in the suburban part of Hillcrest.

The first business to come up was that of dealing with some of the mighty ink-shedders of The Pass. The Hillcrest case being taken first.

As Hillcrest are old friends of ours, the debate was of more than ordinary interest, and the following resolution was passed: That the Hillcrest correspondent be kindly but firmly informed that while our president should be referred to and spoken of with due deference it is against his democratic principles to see such servility. Lord High Admiral, etc., etc., totally unnecessary - just Mr. President.

Some of the members were of the opinion that the name Hillcrest should be admitted to membership for educational purposes, but this was overruled by the president, on the grounds that his

The Canadian Highway

A book which is somewhat different has just reached the office of this paper. This is a publication issued by the Canadian Highway Association, and deals in an interesting way with the work accomplished by that body since its organization on November 3rd and 11th, 1911.

It contains an interesting mass of valuable information concerning roads, and road conditions in different parts of Canada, but more particularly British Columbia. The book is splendidly illustrated with photographs of road scenes and of scenes at the planting of the first post on the West coast of Vancouver Island. Photographs of President W. J. Kerr and his fellow officers add a personal touch to the work.

The mission of "The Canadian Highway" is to educate the public to the advantages of good roads and to encourage them in this work by obtaining a copy by addressing Secretary P. W. Lenz, New Westminster, B. C.

intrusiveness appeared to be so inbred, that it would be impossible to reform him.

The new correspondent for Burnis' Camp was referred to and it was proposed to admit him to membership. His style and ideas were well accepted, the compliment of his plagiarism.

Various members of the Order went to Frank to see the football game between Burnis and Lille, and this outing was freely discussed. The opinion of the Order was that the best sportsman on the field was the player playing the actual game.

The shining boys one generally hear and to a certain extent welcomed, at an interesting game were heard chiefly emanating from people who evidently want to be assured of the Burnis' boys. Their remarks on players are far as references to the individual as a player is concerned are frequent and all right, but the individual who was bawling his head off about details of the private business life of some of the players should provide himself with a "sliver."

Having disposed of the current events things of national importance were brought into and summarized.

All gentlemen in The Pass of Welsh nationality are kindly invited to cooperate with their countrymen in an endeavor to bring out a satisfactory stamp-licking machine to ameliorate in some way the hardships imposed by Papa Lloyd's insurance scheme.
